The water official said the job was being done in two stages. In the first stage, the water was pumped out of the reservoir into a nearby canal, in a separate lengthy operation. In the second stage, the water was pumped from the canal into the reservoir, meeting with the press, replied that Zhukov was guilty of "hypocrisy" and "double-faced tactics."

More Owners Lodge Protest On Proposal

MARION, Ohio (AP)—Marion County landowners have added their voices to protests bubbling up against the Scioto Conservancy District's flood control and dam proposals.

More than 500 landowners, in a meeting this week, decided to protest the conservancy district's plans to build a dam at Belle Point.

No official objections have been filed from Pickaway County against the Conservancy District proposal at this date. However, both City Council and Board of County Commissioners have indicated they will discuss and study the flood control and dam projects during meetings this week.

Circleville and Pickaway County assessment costs would be only a small fraction of the total $72 million proposal. However, based on an appraisal by the Conservancy District, the county's actual cost would be in the neighborhood of $75,000 and the city's more than $32,000.

On Thursday, more than 1,200 persons assembled in Chillicothe to protest the district's proposal to build a Chillicothe floodwall.

The district proposes to build dams on Alum Creek, Mill Creek and the Scioto River.

Marion County commissioners also plan to file a protest before the Aug. 17 deadline because, they said, no definite plans for relocation of roads in the back water areas have been given.

Population Report Irks Athens Chief

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Mayor Raymond Shepard thinks it's about time something is done about the confusion in Athens' population figures.

The mayor was surprised by the Ohio Department of Development's estimate of the city's population until he was told that it still apparently includes Ohio University students.

That being the case, he said, the department's estimate should be closer to 23,000 than the 18,330 estimated this week.

He said results of a recent study performed by the city in conjunction with university officials showed Athens to have about 13,000 residents. The student body, at that time, numbered about 10,000.

The mayor contends that the city's population has been questioned ever since the U. S. Bureau of Census changed its policy in 1950 and began to include students as residents of college towns.

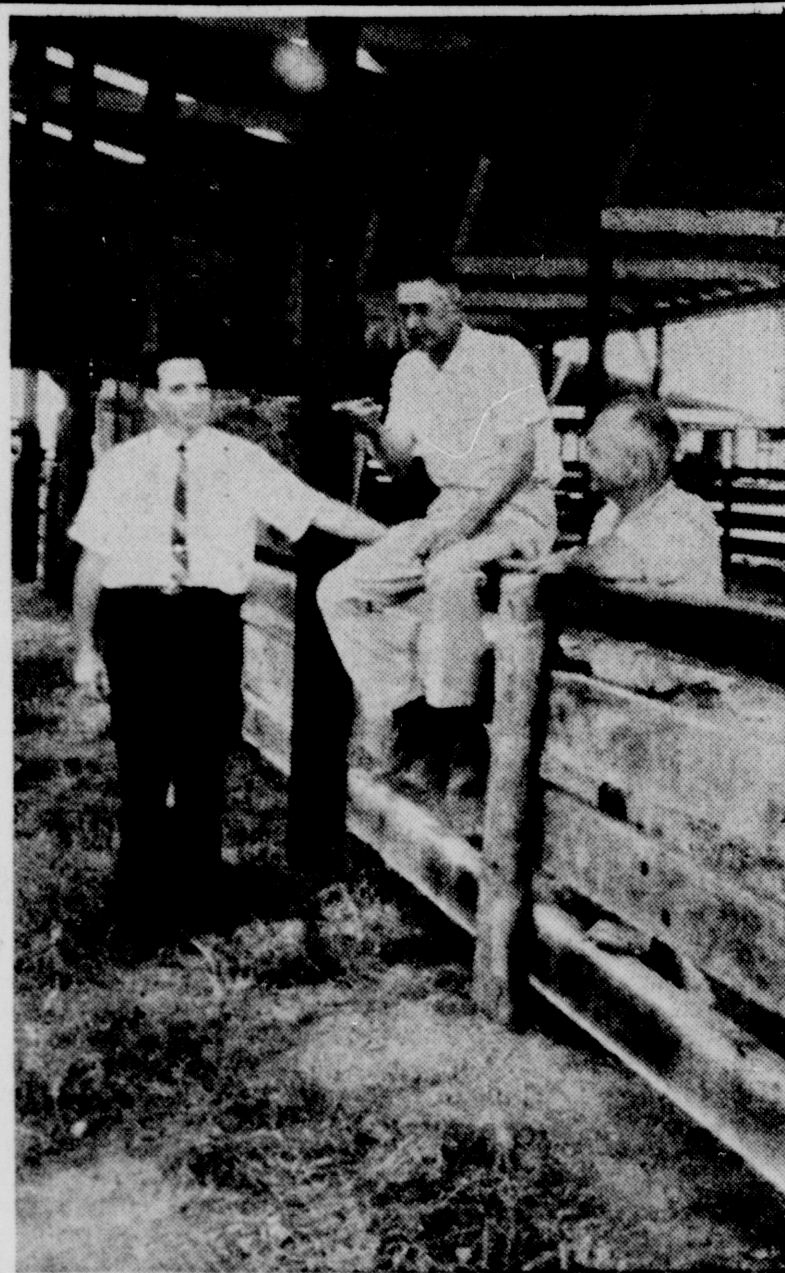

He said he plans to contact the proper authorities to protest this policy and point out the handicap to affected communities when called upon to produce official figures for industry, business, education and other interests.

Shaft To Rescue Miners Pushed

CHAMPAGNOLE, France (AP)—Workers drilling a 32-inch wide escape passage for nine miners trapped 200 feet below the ground were expected to complete the shaft by midnight tonight.

But officials, wary of a possible setback, were reluctant to predict when the men, entombed in the mine chamber for more than four days, would be brought up.

Once the vertical shaft reaches the known survivors, the miners will be evacuated one by one with lift tackle equipment. They have been receiving food and other supplies through small pipe pushed through to the chamber Tuesday.

Gotham Mayor Is Rapped By Harlem Racial Leader

NEW YORK (AP)—The head of a Harlem unity committee says he can't guarantee peace there in the face of Mayor Robert F. Wagner's refusal to create an independent police review board.

Wagner rejected the demand Friday in a log statement, his first since the end of talks with Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. of Atlanta that began late Monday night.

And Wagner made no mention of the other major demand of New York City's Negro leaders — immediate suspension of Lt. Thomas R. Gilligan, a white policeman who shot and killed a Negro boy.

L. Joseph Overton, acting chairman of the Unity Council of Harlem Organizations, said: "He (Wagner) has made it virtually impossible for me to guarantee continued peace on the streets of Harlem."

In another development, police lifted a ban on demonstrations in Harlem and in the Bedford-Stuyvesant section of Brooklyn. But even before the announcement, black nationalist groups scheduled a rally for tonight at a street corner in Harlem's heart.

Two weekends ago, racial rioting broke out in the two Negro sections after demonstrations protesting alleged police brutality. One Negro was killed and scores were injured in five days of disorders.

King, president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, said in Atlanta Friday night he was "very sorry" Wagner had not ordered creation of a civilian board to review charges of police brutality.

Wagner noted in his statement that a City Council committee is studying such board in other cities.

He also proposed a seven-point program that called for the creation of more jobs for unemployed young people and an increase in state and federal aid against poverty.

James Lawson, president of the United African Nationalist Movement, who earlier had defied the police ban on demonstrations, called for the rally. He said he spoke for 17 black nationalist groups.

A grand jury is looking into the July 16 shooting of the Negro boy, James Powell, 15. Police said Gilligan, who was off-duty, fired in self-defense when the boy came at him with a knife. Negro leaders have disputed the explanation.

LBJ Says Ranger 7 To Aid Moon Landing

Scientists Set Sights on Mars

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The U.S. moon shot jinx is broken and a parade of unmanned lunar expeditions will follow. But next on the space schedule are two picture-taking "fly-by" probes of Mars.

Both will be launched during a 28-day period starting in late October, a period that is favorable for reaching Mars. The trips will take eight months.

The planet comes into position as a target only once every two years and U.S. scientists want to collect as much data as possible this time in preparation for landing an unmanned craft on the next go-around.

Named Mariners 3 and 4, the two shots will closely resemble the Mariner 2 probe that successfully flew past Venus in 1962. The two Mariners are to fly by Mars, snap television pictures and gather scientific data.

The parade of moon expeditions—leading toward the Apollo man-to-the-moon program before 1970—will include two more Rangers and several landings in two advanced programs, Surveyor and Lunar Orbiter.

The moon shot program is scheduled to resume in January with Ranger 8. It will have essentially the same mission as Ranger 7: closeup television pictures. The area and type of target it will seek will be determined after the Ranger 7 pictures are analyzed. Ranger 9, with a similar assignment, is to follow in February or March to conclude the Ranger project.

By then scientists expect to have a good idea of the general characteristics of the lunar landscape.

The first Surveyor, a weird-looking craft, is slated for an initial launching in mid-1965. In contrast to the Ranger hard landings, Surveyors are to make so-called soft landings on the moon.

Small motors will help them set down gently on the surface. Early Surveyors will measure radiation, micrometeorites and magnetic fields and will sink drills into the soil to dig up samples which will be analyzed for certain ingredients in small onboard laboratories.

Advanced Surveyors, scheduled for 1966-67, are expected to release small roving vehicles to prowling about the surface up to a radius of two miles from the mother craft.

The first Lunar Orbiter is scheduled for launching in 1966. It will orbit the moon, approaching as close as 30 miles, taking photographs of most of the surface. Tracking of the craft's orbit will permit precise calculation of the size and shape of the moon and the nature of its gravitational field.

The Apollo project calls for three astronauts to orbit the moon, with two of them dropping on the surface in a special capsule. After a period of exploration, the two will launch their capsule, rendezvous with the main ship orbiting the moon, and return to earth.

The success of the experiment gives new evidence that the Americans have mastered the problem of thrusting a heavy payload into space and directing it toward a desired target," said Prof. Auguste Collier of the French Academy of Science.

Chancellor Ludwig Erhard of West Germany said in a telegram to President Johnson: "We are happy with the American people over this tremendous technical and scientific achievement."

The news was broadcast every hour by the Communist Czechoslovak Radio and in Budapest a Communist Hungarian news agency quoted space travel expert Enroe Nagy, who praised the achievement.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson viewed spectacular pictures of the moon from Ranger 7 today and hailed the flight of this space vehicle as heralding a future landing on the moon and continued world leadership in space for America.

The President was told that the televised pictures of the moon's surface showed a large area suitable for the landing of men. He also was told that the lunar excursion model for a manned landing vehicle looks satisfactory — that we are on the right track there.

The President pronounced the Ranger 7 achievement as a victory for peace and the nation and the free world.

He used the event, also, to slap hard at those who would call off the venture for sending a man to the moon — a $20 billion project.

He said that if we hadn't taken advantage of our scientific ability, we still would be using an oxcart and a single engine plane like the one flown at Kitty Hawk.

Johnson saw slides of 9 or 10 pictures of the moon, projected in the White House Cabinet room.

He got comments and explanations on them from Dr. William H. Pickering, director of the Jet Propulsion Laboratory at Pasadena, Calif., and Dr. Homer E. Newell, assistant administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Johnson brought out that the Ranger 7 project started in 1960 and is costing about $260 million.

"You satisfied with the return on that investment?" Johnson asked.

"Completely satisfied," Newell replied.

"Elated?" Johnson cooed.

"Elated," Newell echoed.

Historic pictures taken by Ranger 7 are pretty good evidence man can land on the moon with currently-designed spaceships.

That's the consensus of a board of scientists who Friday night released 10 of the 4,315 sensational photographs Ranger 7 snapped in the final 16 minutes and 40 seconds before it crashed on the moon at 8:25 a.m. (EST) Friday morning.

The first close-up pictures ever taken of the moon — termed 1,000 times better than any made heretofore from spacecraft or with earth telescopes—showed that even its vast, apparently smooth "seas" are pocked with craters, some as small as dishpan.

There may be some dust on the moon, in layers up to a foot thick, but not deep enough to bury a landing vehicle, the scientists concluded. And, underneath the dust, evidence indicates, is a hard primary layer. Whether it would support the weight of a large manned spaceship cannot be determined from photographs alone.

President Johnson earlier telephoned congratulations to Pickering and others at the laboratory, which was much criticized in recent months for six straight failures in the $200 million project.

Rusk Says U.S. Demands Won't Make Soviet Quail

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk says it is unrealistic to expect the Russians to "roll over and play dead" when faced with U.S. demands. Besides, he says, the United States can be tough when it has to be.

This declaration by Rusk at a news conference Friday — that realism and toughness are being pursued together — was by way of reply to Republican charges that the administration has been less than forceful in dealing with the Communists.

"It would be unrealistic to suppose they will roll over and play dead on the basis of anything that we say and do that might affect their vital interests," the secretary said.

But when a newsman told Rusk that some Republican critics have been suggesting that the United States would be more successful in dealing with the Soviet Union if it adopted a tougher stance, he quickly replied the United States is "just as tough and just as stubborn as is necessary to protect our vital interests."

"We ourselves would not yield to pressures against our vital interests. We have to be cautious about supposing that others would do the same," he said.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, the Republican presidential nominee, last June charged the administration with a "weak-kneed" foreign policy and last March said, "We are following the same paths of appeasement that we followed in the 1930s."

Asked about the forthcoming campaign debate on foreign policy, Rusk said he does not anticipate any significant changes in policy during the next several months.

The main U.S. foreign policies are adopted and approved by the people and their leaders in the broadest sense on a bipartisan basis, he said.

A newsman asked if Goldwater is not committed to basic changes in bipartisan foreign policy.

Rusk said this is something that may emerge in the course of the campaign. "But nevertheless, I think the main lines of American policy are well known and have very strong support throughout the country on a bipartisan basis," he added.

"I would not expect major deviations from those well-established policies," Rusk said.

Atlanta (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. says race relations in the North are becoming worse than those in the South — and the outlook is not hopeful.

"The North is potentially more explosive," King said Friday after his return from New York.

There is an urgency, if the states, the cities and the federal government temporize and feel that they can make small gains, we are in for some very tragic periods of rioting and violence," King said swift, decisive action is needed in the North's big cities to clean up Negro ghettos, otherwise, more violence is inevitable.

He suggested that a special pilot project might be made of Harlem for the President's anti-poverty program.

"The cities can't do it alone. They must have help from the state and the federal government," King said.

He said he was optimistic about the South.

"I think in the South you will have in the next few years a totally desegregated society — with the exception of rural areas," King said. "The South can pass the North in race relations."

"With the exception of Mississippi, I am much more hopeful about the South in race relations than I am about many sections of the North."

"The main difference grows out of the fact that in the North, the discrimination is more subtle, covert and hidden than in the South, where it is often legal, overt and open."

Special awards will go to the individuals winning the greatest number of points in the arrangement section, the specimen section and the houseplant section. In the artistic arrangement division the award will be $5 and $2 in the specimen and houseplant division.

Points will be determined as follows: five for a blue ribbon; three for a red ribbon and one for a white ribbon.

The organizational project (gardens entered by organizations) will not be judged. But a premium of $10 will be given to each entry.

The following rules and regulations for the flower show are important:

1. Classes are open to any resident of Pickaway County or the Circleville shopping area who wishes to exhibit. Entries are limited one to a class; 2. All exhibits must be staged and removed according to the schedule. The committee will not be responsible for materials or containers after 6 p. m. Aug. 8; 3. Only one entry may be made in each class from one family;

4. No exhibit can compete in more than one class; 5. Exhibits not meeting specifications of the schedule will be disqualified by the judge. When the schedule calls for a definite number a greater or lesser number disqualifies; 6. All entries will be judged. First, second and third places will be awarded in each class. The exception is the gardens staged by organizations. These will receive a $10 premium;

7. All entries must be turned over to the staging committee who will place them. No exhibit will be accepted unless an entry ticket is attached; 8. An arrangement is to be interpreted as cut plant material in a suitable container. Accessories are optional. Any accessories incorporated into or along with the arrangement or mats or stands will be classed and judged as part of the arrangement.

Artistic arrangements may contain foreign foliage. Do not use any accessories or materials that cannot be left with the entry until the specified time for removal; 9. All specimen flowers must be grown by the individual entering them;

10. The management will not be responsible for loss or breakage of containers or materials used, but will exercise utmost care to prevent loss or breakage; 11. On Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday all artistic arrangements must be in place and any necessary grooming of entries completed by noon; 12. Any premiums may be withheld at the discretion of the Pickaway County Fair Flower Show Committee for failure to comply with rules and regulations.

At least part of the area photographed by Ranger 7 — a northern extension of the Sea of Clouds southwest of the center of the face of the moon — would be unsuitable for landing because of the large number of small craters, Kuiper said.

"If you want to land a ship, you want to do it with as little damage as possible," he said. "So you pick an area where the ship is not likely to tip over or have to land on a litter of debris."

The thousands of tiny pock marks, he said, seemed to cluster at some distance from large primary craters such as Copernicus, about 200 miles north of the target zone.

This indicates the big craters were created by meteors and meteorites which exploded on impact and threw out fragments of many sizes, Kuiper explained.

Between the big primary craters and the clusters of secondary craters around them, however, are relatively "clean" areas which could be good landing sites, he said.

Dr. Eugene Shoemaker of the U.S. Geological Survey at Flagstaff, Ariz., another of the five experts who studied Ranger 7's photographs, suggested that future moon probes study the texture of the surface in the centers of large craters.

Shoemaker was asked if he would be afraid to step out of a landing craft onto the kind of surface shown in the photographs. He answered: "I wouldn't be very worried."

He said, however, there was no way to check the load-bearing strength of the moon's crust from photographs alone.

The motorists were Woodford Fout, 38, Circleville and Robert M. Tucker, 38, Detroit, Mich.

State Highway Patrolmen said Tucker, who was driving the car that struck Fout's auto in the rear, was charged with failure to stop within an assured cleared distance.

Fout was charged with driving when he had no valid operator's license.

THE TWO cars were south-bound. Both were in the left hand or passing lane, according to officials.

A Circleville Police cruiser was damaged and a patrolman slightly injured in an accident today.

Patrolman Jack Mills was making a routine check of the rear of the Southend Sohio Station located on S. Court St. at 4:30 a. m.

He drove around the building looking closely at the rear door. When he glanced up he saw the air pump island directly in his path. He swerved, but not in time to avoid sideswiping the piece of equipment.

Both Drivers In Collision Cited by CSP

Two motorists involved in an accident at 12:30 p. m. yesterday on Route 23 just north of Circleville were cited to appear in Municipal Court for traffic violations.

The motorists were Woodford Fout, 38, Circleville and Robert M. Tucker, 38, Detroit, Mich.

State Highway Patrolmen said Tucker, who was driving the car that struck Fout's auto in the rear, was charged with failure to stop within an assured cleared distance.

Fout was charged with driving when he had no valid operator's license.

THE TWO cars were south-bound. Both were in the left hand or passing lane, according to officials.

Fout was treated for a bruised left shoulder while Tucker received a laceration of the leg and had several teeth loosened by the impact. Both were treated and released at Berger Hospital.

The vehicles were heavily damaged.

Sharon Towler, James Owsley Exchange Vows in Mt. Sterling Methodist Church

Arrangements of white gladioli, snapdragons and palms decorated the altar of Mt. Sterling Methodist Church for the wedding of Miss Sharon Ann Towler and Mr. James Frederick Owsley. The Rev. John W. Wedgewood performed the double ring ceremony 3:30 p. m. July 25.

A program of wedding music was presented by Mrs. James Holloway, vocalist, and Mrs. Ted Bragg, organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of silk organza over taffeta. Lace appliques and seed pearls accented the entire bodice and back of the full skirt which terminated into a flowing chapel train. Miss Marjory Harrison, Mt. Sterling, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Sue Dennis and Miss Beverly Owsley, sister of the bridegroom. They wore identical floor length dresses of pink taffeta featuring long slit overskirts. Matching open crown headpieces, with pearl accented bows on the veils, completed their ensembles. Each carried a cascade bouquet of gardenias, pink roses and ivy foliage.

Miss Paulette Johnson, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a floor length dress of pink taffeta and carried a white basket of pink roses and snapdragons.

Mr. Joshua Owsley, Grove City, served his cousin as best man. Ushers were Mr. Donald Skaggs, Columbus, cousin of the bridegroom, Mr. Roger Mowery, Williamsport, and Mr. Wiley Christie Jr., Ashland, Ky., cousin of the bride. Master Robert Ogle was ring bearer. Joe and John Christie served as taper lighters.

The bride's mother chose for her daughter's wedding a blue lace sheath dress. The mother of the bridegroom wore a beige sheath dress of embroidered nylon. Each wore a gardenia corsage accented with pink roses.

A reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church immediately following the ceremony. Hostesses were Mrs. James Scott and Mrs. Wiley Christie, aunts of the bride, Miss Jean Neff and Mrs. David Neig-meyre. Miss Judy Joslin presided at the guest register.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Strictly for Girls!

DEAR ABBY: I am 17. I copied something out of your book, DEAR TEENAGER, and typed it up and I carry it with me. It has helped me a lot. Two of my girl friends did the same thing. You would be doing many girls a big favor if you would print it in your column. So many girls are having trouble in this line. Thank you, Abby.

"Girls need to 'prove their love' through illicit sex relations like a moose needs a hatrack. Why not 'prove your love' by sticking your head in the oven and turning on the gas? Or playing leap frog in the traffic? It's about as safe."

"Clear the cobwebs out of your head. Any fellow who asks you to 'prove your love' is trying to take you for the biggest, most gullible fool who ever walked. That 'proving' bit is one of the oldest and rottenest lines ever invented! Does he love you? It doesn't sound like it. Someone who loves you wants whatever is best for you. But now figure it out. He wants you to:

Commit an immoral act. . . Surrender your virtue. . . Throw away your self-respect. Risk the loss of your precious reputation. . .

And risk getting into trouble. "Does that sound as though he wants what's best for you? This is the laugh of the century. He wants what's best for him: he wants a thrill he can brag about at your expense. . . Love? Who's kidding whom?"

"A guy who loves a girl would sooner cut off his right arm than hurt her. In my opinion, this self-serving so-and-so has proved that he doesn't love you. The predicatable aftermath of 'proof' of this kind always finds Don Juan tiring of his sport. That's when he drops you, picks up his line, and goes casting elsewhere for bigger and equally silly fish.

"If he loves you, let him prove his love—by marching you to the ALTAR!"

DEAR ABBY: I have a friend who talks about himself all the time. He doesn't even listen when someone else is talking. He just waits for them to get through so he can talk. And he doesn't ever talk about anything except himself. Otherwise he is a nice person. He is intelligent, good-looking, and takes great pride in his clothes and grooming. He would be perfect if he overcame this fault. How can I tell him about it in a nice way?

GOOD FRIEND
DEAR FRIEND: Tell him he is practically perfect, but his "I's" are too close together.

DEAR ABBY: At a neighborhood get-together this she-cat latched herself onto my husband. (She's married, too.) My husband didn't exactly push her away, but it was plain that she did the pursuing. Suddenly they both disappeared. It seems that she lured him into another room just to "talk." I know nothing went on, but I was miserable. When we got home I told him how hurt and humiliated I was. He said I was "narrow-minded" and that he couldn't very well have hurt her feelings by refusing to listen to her. Don't you think he owes me more than he owes her? This same feline is to be at another get-together we plan to attend. Please tell me what to do, or I might take matters into my own hands and wind up in jail.

HURT
DEAR HURT: Of course your husband "owes" you more than he owes her. But he knows that. He should have given her the straight arm instead of the soft shoulder. But if it happens again, I suggest the following "implest, forthright statement: 'I'M JEALOUS — so cut out!'"

Local Baha'i Group Lists Weekly Thought

The following is from Baha'i teachings: In speaking of the desolation created by modern wars, Abdu-u-Baha said, "The prime cause for all these happenings is racial, national, religious and political prejudice, and the root of all this prejudice lies in outworn and deep-seated traditions, be they religious, racial, national or political."

The cure for these troubles, he said, was to be found only in such principles as the oneness of mankind, the oneness of religion, the elimination of all kinds of prejudice, and the establishment of a supreme Tribunal representative of all governments and all peoples of the world."

Bond Idea Proves Boon To New Church Builders

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—"Thank you," wrote the minister, "for taking us out of the begging business."

The letter is a prized possession of A. B. Culbertson, whose gem of an idea a decade ago turned into a bustling investment business.

His idea also built hundreds of churches for booming suburbia. The problem simply was this: Persons moving to the new suburbs are burdened with mortgages, car payments, the need to put up at least a decent front.

These people do not have $2,000 or $3,000 each to contribute toward building a church.

But Culbertson knew their credit was good.

Basically, says Culbertson, "We've given respectability to church obligations."

Church members, possibly meeting in someone's home or in a school, agree to a bond program to build a church structure.

Culbertson makes the arrangements and the church members sell the bonds. Mostly they sell bonds to themselves, borrowing the money from a bank.

The bonds are secured by the church property and are paid, along with the interest, from regular Sunday contributions.

"It is a self-propelling proposition," says Culbertson, a spry, 70-year-old Baptist layman. "We just ride herd from the moment we sign up a church until the last bond is paid for."

Most savings and loan associations ignored churches' financial needs 10 years ago, Culbertson said in an interview. Bank standards were too rigorous to be met by new, struggling churches.

"Now they're bidding for church loans," Culbertson said. Culbertson said three factors contributed to the widespread demand for new churches:

The population explosion, influx of people from rural areas to cities and mushrooming suburbia.

Success of the A. B. Culbertson & Co. formula is reflected in hundreds of churches across 14 states.

Culbertson began by experimenting with a loan to a group in Borger, Tex.

"It was successful, and we just started rolling," he said.

"There was no church loan competition then and it was pitiful how folks were trying to get people to help them."

The Culbertson concern now services about $65 million in church and institutional loans.

"There are great spiritual and moral resources backing these investments," he declared. "Even during the depression, banks failed and businesses closed, but by and large churches paid their debts — not all at that time, but they paid them, 100 cents on the dollar."

Westinghouse Lays Off 900

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Lay-off of 900 production workers at the Columbus appliance division plant of Westinghouse Electric Corp. was announced Friday by the corporation.

John J. Schaffer of the firm's industrial relations department said the layoffs become effective Aug. 17 when the plant resumes production following a two-week plant vacation. He added that the plant is expected to be re-turned to the present level of employment — 4,600 production workers and 1,000 offices employees — "within the next few months."

Schaffer said production of 1964 appliances had reached its peak and "we will not return to our present employment level until the 1965 line goes into production."

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Joseph S. Deutsche Sr., of Columbus, was named Friday to his 19th year as adjutant of the American Legion of Ohio. The appointment was announced by Vernon E. Allen of Cleveland, new state commander.

Other appointments included William R. Schnug of Hilliard, historian; Cedric A. Stanley, Lebanon, judge advocate; Thomas W. Applegate, Columbus, and David L. Brumback Jr. of Van Wert, finance committee members, and Robert F. Brennan of North Olmsted, board.

I'll never forget the day we took this picture. The sun was shining brightly and we'd gone for a ride in the country, my husband Tom, Thelma and I. We came to this field full of daisies and we stopped, and I braided a crown of flowers for Thelma's head. She was wearing a brand new dress and she had a new little parasol too. I thought she looked like just about the happiest and prettiest little girl alive.

How thankful I was! For our Thelma had just weathered her first serious illness, and for several weeks there had been days and nights of incredible anxiety and heart-rending prayer.

Now, watching Thelma in her new-found health, I thought of our church. Not only our minister, but members of the congregation, people whom I scarcely knew, had rallied to our side during Thelma's illness.

Just having them — just knowing that they were adding their prayers to ours, had meant so much. And now, I knew, they were sharing our jubilation.

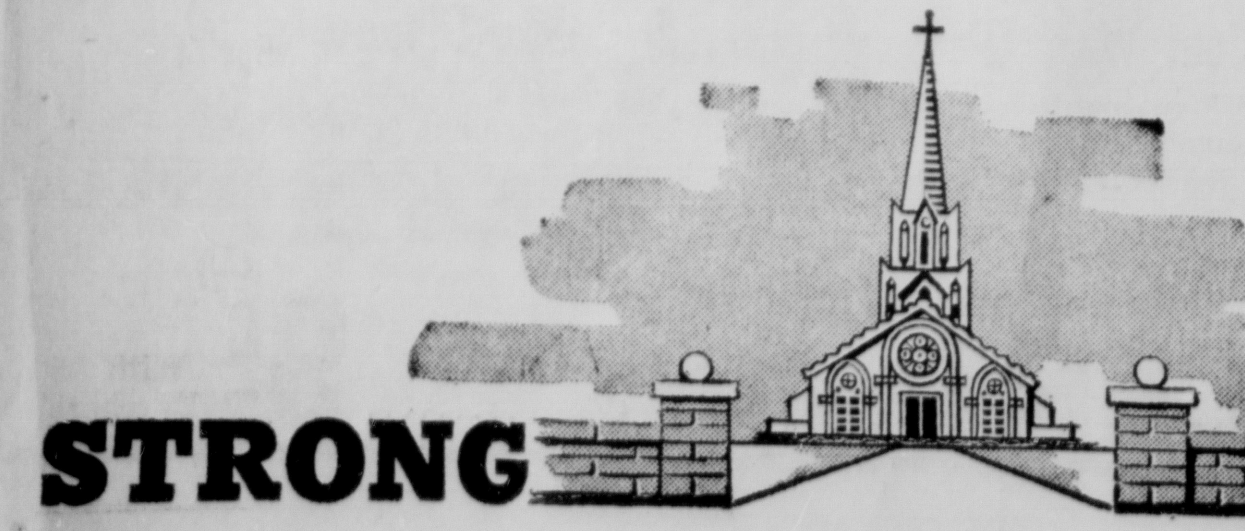

How sorry I feel for people who don't go to church. For they miss one of life's great truths — the knowledge that if you have the Church, you can never again be alone.

That Summer Afternoon

I'll never forget the day we took this picture. The sun was shining brightly and we'd gone for a ride in the country, my husband Tom, Thelma and I. We came to this field full of daisies and we stopped, and I braided a crown of flowers for Thelma's head. She was wearing a brand new dress and she had a new little parasol too. I thought she looked like just about the happiest and prettiest little girl alive.

How thankful I was! For our Thelma had just weathered her first serious illness, and for several weeks there had been days and nights of incredible anxiety and heart-rending prayer.

Now, watching Thelma in her new-found health, I thought of our church. Not only our minister, but members of the congregation, people whom I scarcely knew, had rallied to our side during Thelma's illness.

Just having them — just knowing that they were adding their prayers to ours, had meant so much. And now, I knew, they were sharing our jubilation.

How sorry I feel for people who don't go to church. For they miss one of life's great truths — the knowledge that if you have the Church, you can never again be alone.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

BPO Elks Earn Undisputed Little League Major Title

The BPO Elks Little League Majors baseball team won the undisputed season title last night when they handed Bingham Drugs a 4-2 defeat.

The Elks and the Drugmen had tied for the second round title. Last night's tilt was the playoff of that deadlock.

In yesterday's tilt Bryce Brown held the Drug unit to two runs on one hit — as single by Hansell York. An Elk error contributed to the two-run total for the losers.

The losing pitcher was Chris Long, who was relieved by Paul Tassler in the second inning. The duo whiffed 11 batters and were touched for five singles.

THE ELKS scored all four runs in the first two innings. Tassler shut them out for the remainder of the game.

The losers finished the season with an 8-8 record.

The Elks ran away with the Majors crown, combining excellent pitching with clutch hitting for a 14-2 record and a share of honor in all three rounds.

The Elksmen topped the first round with a 4-1 record, tied with Bingham Drugs for the second with a 4-1 mark and won the final outright at 5-0.

Bryce Brown proved to be the best of the pitching corps. Appearing in 11 games, the right hander won 10 and had to leave the last because it went into extra frames. His best performance was a no-hitter against Bingham Drugs on June 8. He fanned 14 batters in the win.

For the season, Brown hurled five one-hitters—three of which were shutouts — a two-hitter, a three-hitter, a four-hitter and a seven-hitter. He threw third strikes past 15 batters in the play-off with Bingham, his highest total.

BROWN pitched a total of 50 innings during the season, striking out 131 batters along the way. He permitted 14 runs on 21 hits.

D. J. Humphrey worked on the mound as a reliever during the year. He appeared in four games — all in relief — and saved three. He was charged with one of the two losses.

Humphrey was on the mound for 8 1/3 innings, in which he allowed seven runs on six hits. He compiled two strikeouts for his efforts.

Rickey Prushing pitched in his share of tilts. He appeared in six games, starting four and coming on in relief in two games.

Prushing saved two games, won one and lost a tilt. He hurled 22 2/3 innings, and allowed 26 runs on 29 hits. He threw three strikes past 24 batters.

Ty Ankrom, regular catcher, tried his hand on the mound and won three games. He earned two of them in relief roles, and copped the third as he went the distance.

ANKROM fired for 11 frames, permitting the opposition 10 runs and limiting them to eight hits. He fanned four batters.

Chuck Walisa fired one complete game and won it. He allowed 11 runs on 10 hits. Richard Olney appeared on the mound for two innings in the relief of Prushing, and saved the game for him. He fanned two batters, allowed two runs and two hits.

Ankrom paced the champions at the plate, lashing the opposition pitcher for a .568 average. He belted four homers, two triples and seven doubles.

CHARLES SIMS was a potent man with the bat, swatting .477 and getting two doubles and a triple. Brown tagged the ball for a .463 average and two home runs, a triple and five doubles.

Cordle hit .370 for the season, including three homers, three triples and two doubles. Walisa was the last man to finish over the 300 mark, hitting .309. His hits ranged from a home run and two triples to four doubles and six singles.

Bingham Drugs gave the Elksmen the most trouble. On their June 8 playing date, Brown tossed his neat no-hit game. The effort was not wasted as Paul Tassler, Bingham star, fired a three-hitter at the Elksmen. Brown fanned 14 men in the

Late Rush Scores For Phone Salesman

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's 31st Public Links golf crown rested today on the blond locks of handsome Joe Lazor of Cleveland, a 34-year-old telephone company salesman, former professional and father of three.

The former Akronite came from three strokes behind to take the title in Friday's fourth round at Possum Run's 6,258-yard par 71 course with a 72-hole total of 282, two under par. He went the final route without a bogey, but snared two birdies for the 69 which meant a one-stroke conquest over defending champion Lalu Sabotin, the 34-year-old Warren Fire Department lieutenant and former heavyweight boxer.

Sabotin and Lazor were tied at 213 at the end of 54 holes. Ahead of them, at 211, were Bob Kish, 20-year-old Youngstown University flash, and Jim Musille, 43-year-old Mansfield electrical plant employee. On top, with 210, was Bob Likko, Youngstown fireman and former minor league ball player.

At the end of 63 holes Kish was out front at 246, and Sabotin, Likko and Lazor were deadlocked at 247—setting the stage for the stretch drive.

Coming home Lazor birdied the 13th hole, while Sabotin matched par, and that was it. The others couldn't stand the pace, Likko and Musille winding up at 285, three strokes back, and Kish and State Amateur Champion Carl Unis of Cleveland at 286.

For his conquest Lazor received the Sylvanus P. Germaine trophy and $150 in merchandise. All 64 final-round survivors of the starting field of 252 sliced up the $1500 prize melon.

Circleville Lumber Ends Two Years of Perfect Baseball

By DAVID AMEY

Circleville Lumber is the undisputed and undeniably champions of the Mosquito League baseball program in the 1964 season, winning all 14 of their games. It was the second perfect season for the team.

The nucleus of the squad was three boys — Clifford Whaley, Dave Truex and Randy Young. The three shared pitching duties and one of the trio always came up with the big hit to win close ball games. All aged nine, the three were all selected to the Mosquito League All-Star team.

Closest competitor to the lumbermen for the crown was the Knights of Columbus. The Knights finished play with a 12-2 mark — the two losses coming at the hands of Circleville Lumber.

In fact, the closest game for the lumbermen this season was their second encounter with the Knights on July 14. Circleville Lumber managed two hits — one a homerun by Whaley — as they beat K of C, 4-3. Truex was the winning pitcher, allowing five hits.

WHALEY was the ace of the hurling corps. He won seven games, appearing in 29 innings. He allowed 25 runs on 27 hits, fanned 50 batters and walked 22.

Truex picked up five victories, winning one game as a relief hurler. He pitched for 24 innings, and allowed 12 runs on nine hits. The fireballer fanned 60 batters and walked 24.

Young played the role of relief pitcher most of the year. He started two games and won both, while saving two victories for Whaley.

Young fired 17 innings, allowing six runs on 11 hits. He threw three strikes past 30 would-be hitters and walked 16 men.

The 1964 Circleville Lumber team racked opposing hurlers for 184 runs on 134 hits. Fancy fielding and superb pitching limited the seven remaining Mosquito League squads to 39 runs on 42 hits.

Truex was a master with the baseball bat for the lumbermen. He appeared at the plate 39 times.

es and collected 33 hits for an astounding .842 batting average.

THE YOUNG slugger paced the entire Mosquito League in slugging — lashing nine home runs, three triples and seven doubles.

Batting close behind him was Whaley who tagged 29 hits in 38 trips for a .763 average. He managed six doubles, two triples and six homeruns.

Scott Clifton was next on the Lumbermen totem-pole with a .480 average, which included a double and a homerun. Randy Young had a .454 percentage and Mike Gillian a cool .400.

K of C garnered the second slot in the Mosquito League with an 11-3 record. Greg Hoskins paced the Knights at the plate with a .450 batting mark. He clubbed five home runs and two doubles.

Prairie Lanes finished third with a 9-5 record. Steve Brungs was the bowlers' best hitter, swatting an even .500.

The fourth slot showed a three-way deadlock between Mac's Goodyear, Lewis Cook and Hill Implement — all with 6-8 records.

TOM TATMAN paced Mac's at the plate with a .568 average which included five triples and six doubles. Gary Mogan was the Lewis Cook star with a .600 average and Tom Taylor hit .423 for Hill's.

Ankrom Lumber and Pickaway Dairy tied in their battle for the cellar with 2-12 records. Jim York slugged at a .519 pace for Ankrom's while Craig Lund hit .500 for Pickaway Dairy.

Palmer, Collins Tied in Canada

MONTREAL (AP) — Arnold Palmer has retrieved the putting ability he misplaced and big Bill Collins of Grossinger's, N.Y., has found a putting touch he never owned.

Palmer, lost in the shuffle with an opening round par 71, surged back Friday with a four-under 67 to share the second round lead at 138 with Collins in the $50,000 Canadian Open golf championship.

"That was my best putting round in the last year," Palmer said after tearing through the 7,090-yard Pinegrove Course in 29 putts.

"I never could make those long ones," Collins said, moment after he's dropped putts from long distances to give him a three-under 68 to go with his initial 70.

The first USGA Open was held on the nine-hole course of the Newport, R.I., Golf Club on Oct. 4, 1895, during the same week and on the same course as the first USGA Amateur.

Circleville Lumber Ends Two Years of Perfect Baseball

By DAVID AMEY

Circleville Lumber is the undisputed and undenied champions of the Mosquito League baseball program in the 1964 season, winning all 14 of their games. It was the second perfect season for the team.

The nucleus of the squad was three boys — Clifford Whaley, Dave Truex and Randy Young. The three shared pitching duties and one of the trio always came up with the big hit to win close ball games. All aged nine, the three were all selected to the Mosquito League All-Star team.

Closest competitor to the lumbermen for the crown was the Knights of Columbus. The Knights finished play with a 12-2 mark — the two losses coming at the hands of Circleville Lumber.

In fact, the closest game for the lumbermen this season was their second encounter with the Knights on July 14. Circleville Lumber managed two hits — one a homerun by Whaley — as they beat K of C, 4-3. Truex was the winning pitcher, allowing five hits.

WHALEY was the ace of the hurling corps. He won seven games, appearing in 29 innings. He allowed 25 runs on 27 hits, fanned 50 batters and walked 22.

Truex picked up five victories, winning one game as a reliever. He pitched for 24 innings, and allowed 12 runs on nine hits. The fireballer fanned 60 batters and walked 24.

Young played the role of relief pitcher most of the year. He started two games and won both, while saving two victories for Whaley.

Young fired 17 innings, allowing six runs on 11 hits. He threw three strikes past 30 would-be hitters and walked 16 men.

The 1964 Circleville Lumber team racked opposing hurlers for 184 runs on 134 hits. Fancy fielding and superb pitching limited the seven remaining Mosquito League squads to 39 runs on 42 hits.

Truex was a master with the baseball bat for the lumbermen. He appeared at the plate 39 times and collected 33 hits for an astounding .842 batting average.

THE YOUNG slugger paced the entire Mosquito League in slugging — lashing nine home runs, three triples and seven doubles.

Batting close behind him was Whaley who tagged 29 hits in 38 trips for a .763 average. He managed six doubles, two triples and six homeruns.

Scott Clifton was next on the Lumbermen totem-pole with a .480 average, which included a double and a homerun. Randy Young had a .454 percentage and Mike Gillian a cool .400.

K of C garnered the second slot in the Mosquito League with an 11-3 record. Greg Hoskins paced the Knights at the plate with a .450 batting mark. He clubbed five home runs and two doubles.

Prairie Lanes finished third with a 9-5 record. Steve Brungs was the bowlers' best hitter, swatting an even .500.

The fourth slot showed a three-way deadlock between Mac's Goodyear, Lewis Cook and Hill Implement — all with 6-8 records.

TOM TATMAN paced Mac's at the plate with a .568 average which included five triples and six doubles. Gary Mogan was the Lewis Cook star with a .600 average and Tom Taylor hit .423 for Hill's.

Ankrum Lumber and Pickaway Dairy tied in their battle for the cellar with 2-12 records. Jim York slugged at a .519 pace for Ankrum's while Craig Lund hit .500 for Pickaway Dairy.

A game slated today for the All-Stars has been postponed.

Tri-Staters Open Tourney For Partners

CINCINNATI (AP) — This is the day, it's a good idea, the teammates in a golf tournament always are good friends.

It's the opening of the annual Tri-State Tournament and play today is in scotch foursomes or alternate strokes. If it weren't for that friendship it means the fellow who hits the first shot could be in serious trouble with his buddy if he plunks his drive into trees or deep rough.

It will be the partner who has to dig it out.

And if the second shooter hits what was a well-placed drive into a trap it's the partner who has to make the recovery. It can be frustrating.

So far as is known, however, there never has been any blood-letting between partners. The Tri-State long has been serious golf but also a good sociable gathering among old friends.

The Tri-State, being played this year over Cincinnati's Coldstream Country Club course, matches top amateurs from Indiana, Kentucky and Southwest Ohio in two-man teams.

They play in 18-hole scotch foursomes today. Sunday the competition will be on a best ball affair.

The New York Knickerbockers will have height next season. They have signed Willis Reed, 6-foot-10 star from Grambling College in Louisiana. He is 22.

Palmer, Collins Tied in Canada

MONTREAL (AP) — Arnold Palmer has retrieved the putting ability he misplaced and big Bill Collins of Grossinger's, N.Y., has found a putting touch he never owned.

Palmer, lost in the shuffle with an opening round par 71, surged back Friday with a four-under 67 to share the second round lead at 138 with Collins in the $50,000 Canadian Open golf championship.

"That was my best putting round in the last year," Palmer said after tearing through the 7,000-yard Pinegrove Course in 29 putts.

"I never could make those long ones," Collins said, moment after he's dropped putts from long distances to give him a three-under 68 to go with his initial 70.

The first USGA Open was held on the nine-hole course of the Newport, R.I., Golf Club on Oct. 4, 1895, during the same week and on the same course as the first USGA Amateur.

In Memoriam

In Memoriam
In loving memory of Alma Groce
Norris, who was called to her eternal home nine years ago, Aug. 1st, 1963.
This day brings back sad memories of you, Dear Alma, my happiest moments are when I can be alone and recall, how beautiful you made life for me. Loving and kind in all your ways, upright and just to the end of her days. Sincere and true in heart and mind. uch beautiful memories you left behind. So patient in all your suffering, never murmuring or complaining. Always trusting in her maker. Those memories are a precious gift so wonderful to recall. Remembering back of the beautiful memories of the joy and happiness we shared together.
They are precious keepsakes, I live with from day to day. I bless the years we had together and leave the rest to God. Though God has you in His keeping, I have you in my heart. Sadly missed by her Mother. Mae Groce

In Memoriam

In Memoriam
In loving memory of Alma Groce Norris, who was called to her eternal home nine years ago, Aug. 1st, 1964.

This day brings back sad memories of you, Dear Alma, my happiest moments are when I can be alone and recall how beautiful you made life for me. Loving and kind in your ways, upright and just to the end of her days. Sincere and true in heart and mind. I wish beautiful memories you left behind. So patient in all your suffering, never murmuring or complaining. Always trusting in her maker. Those memories are a precious gift so wonderful to recall. Remembering back of the beautiful memories of the joy and happiness we shared together. They are precious keepsakes, I live with from day to day. I bless the years we had together and leave the rest to God. Though God has you in His keeping, I have you in my heart. Sadly missed by her Mother.
Mae Groce

Tiger Chalks TKO, Eyes Giardello

NEW YORK (AP) — Dick Tiger lost his world middleweight crown to Joey Giardello eight months ago but today he felt like a champion again.

It was all because of his stunning six-round technical knock-out of eighth-ranked Jose Gonzalez in a nationally televised bout at Madison Square Garden Friday night.

"I proved that I still deserve the championship fight," Tiger told reporters. "If Giardello beats Ruben Carter, I hope he keeps his promise at last. He can't avoid me now."

Tiger, grieved because Giardello chose Carter in preference to him for his first defense of the title he won from Tiger last Dec. 7, had charged that the champion had reneged on a promise to give him a return bout.

Third base coach Floyd Baker of the Minnesota Twins began his career with Mayfield, Ky., in 1938.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "When Gracie retired, I went to work," says George Burns, 68, and working harder than a beagle. Burns had just returned from five weeks in Nevada where he regaled the dice throwers with songs and patter. He reported to Warner Bros. to begin his starring role in "Wendy and Me," a television series which he also is producing and helping to write.

In addition, he is producing and supervising the scripts of another Warner series, "No Time for Sergeants," and he continued overseeing "Mister Ed," which he helped create.

If he is overworked, he doesn't show it. "I'm doing what I love to do," Burns said. "Retire? Never. I was retired during all those years I worked with Gracie. It's no wonder she wanted to quit; she did all the work. If we had 35 pages of dialogue, she had to memorize 25 pages of it. All I did was say, 'Tell me about your brother,' and that would start her off."

Burns told how he found a new home at Warner Bros.

"The studio had Connie Stevens, whom I greatly admired, and I had the idea for a series, which Warner liked. The story has me, George Burns, buying an apartment building to give me an audience for my singing. One of the tenants is Connie, who plays an airlines stewardess. I weave in and out of the stories, talk to the audience and sing a song now and then.

"J. L. Warner was so pleased with how 'Wendy and Me' turned out that he asked me to take over 'No Time for Sergeants' as well."

Is it possible that George is stagestruck? "Sure, I am," he said. "But that's true of all of us who have done well in the business; we all love to work. Jack Benny is that way. So is Bob Hope. Milton Berle? Why, all you have to do is open a refrigerator door and the light causes him to go into 20 minutes of jokes.

"But it's true of the younger generation, too. Nothing could hold back an Ann-Margret or a Bobby Darin. They have that same thing that we have: the drive to please an audience. It happens that I discovered Ann-Margret, but I don't take any bows for it. If I hadn't discovered her, someone else would have. You can't hold back talent.

Horseshoe Pitchers Vie For Honors

GREENVILLE, Ohio (AP) — This western Ohio city of 11,000 has become a mecca for horseshoe pitchers from all over the U.S. as they gather to seek top prizes in the world tournament which opens here today and runs through Aug. 11.
